

CCTV:

With the growing concern of security in South Africa, and the need for customers to be able to not only keep an eye on their property; but also be able to back track should there be a trespassing, CCTV camera installations have become a necessity. Whether your requirements for CCTV are on a corporate level or simply for the privacy of your own home, we are able to deliver top notch quality and technology in this regard and ensure that you have a system that is reliable and can be so hidden, people won't even know it is there.

CCTV services include:

- IP & Analogue cameras (Networkable)
- Biometric time, attendance and access control.
- Intercom systems.

FINGER PRINT READER:

Together with the CCTV technology installed by Audio Visual Lifestyle Solutions, we also install finger print readers, which have become very popular on a corporate level, or for the average business owner.

Management are now able to control the "in and outs" of staff members, and no longer have to rely on man power or out dated clock in systems which can be rigged on a daily basis.

A profile is developed and accompanied by a finger print from that staff member, so as to control their access into the building, as well as out of the building. A monthly report can then be pulled, and their hours of work attendance assessed.

For management made simple give us a call for your finger print reader system installation.
